

WASHINGTON: HANDS OFF CUBA! HIT THE STREETS MAY 17!

Right-wing opponents of the Cuban Revolution have called for a demonstration at the Cuban Mission for 1:00 PM Saturday, May 17. These organizations—part and parcel of a four-decades long attempt by Washington to destabilize and destroy the Cuban government and its example of social justice and internationalism—feel wind in their sails with the stepped-up provocations by the Bush Administration against the small island and its mighty international example. In the past weeks we have seen a highly orchestrated campaign of disinformation and demonization launched by big-business politicians and their loyal corporate media. This deceitful and hypocritical campaign has been joined by a number of “leftists” and “progressives” who take exception to Cuba’s right to defend itself against the unremitting and escalating U.S. economic and political war and the permanent threat of military intervention.
